Briefly describe the ending your game: (5 responses)

- I piloted the mech and got to the surface
- I found a surface world with enough food for everyone after I visited the outlands and then informed everyone including my wife before the collapse so that we could all escape in time.
- Reached the new world to rule without Catalina
- I was with Catalina and went to see the GL-13, which had been crushed.
- saw the light after going in the robot

Describe anything that was confusing to you, or write N/A (5 responses)

- a few bugs here and there
- N/A
- May have misinterpreted it, but I thought one of the beginning passages mentioned that you only had 4 days, then the next few reference a period of 6 days.
- I was confused as to if I had died in the end, as the game said "The Inpire rebuilds in its new home, without its Emperor. Perhaps now it will be a democracy?" but I had no other indication of my death.
- extopia was in inpire?
